```
let obj = 2 name: 'kenny'
                                                                                                   age: 83 (onst fun(=({ name})=){
            const func = (05) => { |
                                                                                                                                                                                                                   (og (name)
                                log(0 b) name)
                App. jsx
<AuthGuardRoute path="/cardspanel" component={CardsPanelPage} />
 const AuthGuardRoute = ({ component: Component, ...rest }) => { component const loggedIn = useSelector((state) => state.auth.loggedIn const loggedIn const l \{\dotsrest\}^{7}
                                        {...rest}

render={(props) => }

Cords Panel fage
                                                 loggedIn === true ? <Component {...props} /> : <Redirect gin" />
Route>
    to="/login" />
                           ></Route>
     };
```